

Shuster names new GOP members of House Transportation Committee

By Keith Laing - 12/12/12 02:50 PM ET

Rep. Bill Shuster (R-Pa.) has named 10 new Republican members of the House Transportation and Infrastructure Committee.

Shuster said Wednesday that the new GOP members of the Transportation Committee would be Reps. Steve Daines (R-Mont.); Rodney Davis (R-Ill.); Thomas Massie (R-Ky.); Mark Meadows (R-N.C.); Markwayne Mullin (R-Okla.); Scott Perry (R-Pa.); Trey Radel (R-Fla.); Tom Rice (R-S.C.); Daniel Webster (R-Fla.); and Roger Williams (R-Texas).

Shuster, who is taking over the Transportation Committee from Rep. John Mica (R-Fla.) next year, said he was looking forward to working with the new members of the panel.

"I am excited to welcome ten new Republican members to serve on the Transportation and Infrastructure Committee in the 113th Congress," he said in a statement released by his office.

"The addition of these new members compliments the skills and knowledge of our existing members, and I look forward to working together on the committee to reform programs and strengthen America's transportation networks to make us more efficient, more competitive, and more prosperous," he continued.

Shuster was elected chairman of the House Transportation Committee by the chamber's Republican Caucus last month.

Source:

<http://thehill.com/blogs/transportation-report/1095-other/272579-shuster-names-new-gop-members-of-house-transportation-committee>

The contents of this site are © 2012 Capitol Hill Publishing Corp., a subsidiary of News Communications, Inc.